Define your problem statement

What problem are you trying to solve? Frame your problem as a How Might We statement. This will be the focus of your brainstorm.

🕒 5 minutes

PROBLEM

PROBLEM

Blockchain is a technology which enables elections to be done transparently. We can avoid rigging or any corrupt activities using the technology and should be able to make sure that the votes are also accounted for on a real-time basis. Design an electronic voting system, using the ethereum blockchain (smart contracts) and more precisely the RPC test which enables account generation with a private and public key. Step-2: Brainstorm, Idea Listing and Grouping

3 Brainstorm

Write down any ideas that come to mind that address your problem statement.

10 minutes

TIP You can collect a sticky note and write the point/idea on another note or card attached.

RAULPH

My idea is to create a mobile app that allows users to track their daily water intake. The app will have a simple interface with a large water drop icon and a slider to adjust the amount of water consumed. It will also have a calendar view to track water intake over time.

4 Group ideas

Take turns sharing your ideas while clustering similar or related notes as you go. Once all sticky notes have been grouped, give each cluster a sentence-like label. If a cluster is larger than six sticky notes, try and see if you can break it up into smaller sub-groups.

10 minutes

TIP Most brainstorming apps let you add sticky notes to a board. You can use these notes to make a board, so the ideas are organized and visible to everyone. You can also use a whiteboard or a large sheet of paper to make a board.

Step-3: Idea Prioritization

4 Prioritize

Your team should all be on the same page about what's important moving forward. Place your ideas on this grid to determine which ideas are important and which are feasible.

⌚ 20 minutes

TIP Participants can use their cursors to point at where sticky notes should go on the grid. The facilitator can confirm the spot by using the laser pointer holding the H key on the keyboard.
